IT'S SURELY THE GOLDEN AGE OF COMIC STRIPS!

The 1930s saw the growth of a special entertainment medium: the adventure comic strip. Of dubious parentage (both the dime thriller and the movies were blamed), the lusty wail enjoyed no more than twenty years of fame before the onslaught of his own legitimate offspring, the TV adventure show.

Popular culture scholar Ron Gouart (known also for his prizewinning fiction) opens the yellowing pages of yesterday's newspapers, flipping past ancient front-page stories about dictators and New Dealers, to alight on the meaningful pages — the comic strips. Among those he brings back to life (helped by numerous illustrations): BUCK ROGERS. As the 20s ended, Anthony Rogers went to sleep, to wake up in the 25th century.

TARZAN. The jungle lord was given a leg up by his chief chronicler, the amazing Edgar Rice Burroughs. But never forget the contributions of artists Hal Foster, Rex Maxon and Harry Hogarth (whose drawings of the titled apeman were displayed in the Louvre). AVIATION STRIPS. Smilin' Jack, Tailspin Tommy, Skyroads, Scorchy Smith, Flyin' Jenny and Barney Baxter ("approved by the Junior Birdmen of America").

GANGBUSTERS. Dick Tracy, of course. And Dan Dunn, Secret Agent X-9 (created by Dashiell Hammett and Alex Raymond), Radio Patrol, Red Barry. CAPTAIN EASY. Above and beyond its superior draftsmanship, this mock epic influenced many another feature.

FLASH GORDON. Drawn by Alex Raymond, perhaps the seminal and certainly the most admired of all strip artists. THE WAY WEST. With the exception of Red Ryder, cowboy strips were linked by city fellers who had never thrown a leg over a saddle. One strip, in fact, was drawn by a New Yorker cartoonist, Urbane, scholarly (chockful of actual interviews with Milton Caniff, Alfred Andriola, Roy Crane, et al.) and appreciative, The Adventurous Decade is a warmhearted, careful study of one of yesterday's innocent pleasures.

New Jersey Fandom is unlike any you've ever encountered, probably. In only two years, this little gardening state has developed into a true faanish capital.

The land Fat Elmo squashed has enuf excitement for both its residents and neighbors. You will probably find applications of N.J. activities to your own Terra Firma. I hope so, because the kind of enjoyment we seem to find within fandom should be spread around for everyone to enjoy.

I hope you'll be totally fascinated by Jerseyscene. But even more than that, I hope you will find a deeper fascination with fandom and a deeper desire to participate in clubs, zines, and cons. Fandom is a participant's sport.

Never did like 'Doonesbury'

If your recent apology for the dismissal of "Doonesbury" from The Home News tells the whole truth, you rescinded the order of banishment for the best of all possible reasons.

Was there really not one word of approbation in that deluge of correspondence following disappearance of the strip, not so much as a whisper of gratification?

The strongest man will waver in a conviction if denunciation of it is universal, although the strongest woman in the same circumstances may hold out. You have turned tail as a man denounced, and, while I would not urge you to turn again and add inconstancy to defeat, I cannot keep silence in the knowledge that you need a friend.

When "Doonesbury" vanished I ought to have cheered publicly and immediately. I admit my fault. I was ashamed of my preoccupation with your comics section and afraid that an admission of private vice would provoke ridicule. Now that the existence of pervasive low taste is documented, it is too late to throw a counter opinion into the scales. But I never thought "Doonesbury" amounted to much.

You describe the recent content of "Doonesbury" as "unfunny," and I agree with you.

But why do you see the humorless quality of "Doonesbury" as a recent development? Mr. Trudeau's former treatment of the women's movement dragged on until it reached a saturation of wistful bathos. On the hysterical last gasps of the Nixon administration "Doonesbury" reflected nothing but the flat, hostile doctrine of the country at the time, with a very small admixture of wit or insight. On the other hand, treating the subject of the deplorable Vietnam struggle, "Doonesbury" opted for a tone of unrelieved fantasy that, as far as I could see, was in equally bad taste from a liberal or a conservative perspective. Now and then, to be fair, the strip did strike a genuinely brilliant level of irony. But these flashes were far too few.

The overriding characteristic of the "Doonesbury" comic is its party-line liberalism on obvious current topics that it hammers monotonously until they are thinner than gold leaf and a good deal less pleasing to the eye. For social comment it frequently offers truism; for a point of view it borrows common attitudes; for comedy it provides slapstick situations but no slap.

And so I offer you my allegiance, but I claim the right to differ with you on one point. You believe "Doonesbury" ceased to be funny; I don't think it ever has sustained a reasonable level of humor. In fact, if "unfunny," actually is an adjective, I don't think it begins to do the subject justice.

"Doonesbury" is not only "unfunny," it is jejune, puerile, tedious, labored, superficial, dogmatic, obvious, trite, emetic, cloying, verbose, contrived, pedantic, predictable and dull.

Reinstate "Doonesbury" on the editorial page by all means. At least people will cease to take it seriously there.

One reader did not oppose your decision to drop it, but I shall not cancel my subscription to The Home News now that the strip is back. Heaven forbid that a newspaper should collapse on my account or "Doonesbury's."

THE HOME NEWS

Jan. 21, 1977

DEAR DOONESBURY FAN:

Please pardon the fact that this letter is being mass produced, but if I wrote each of you individually my secretary would be kept busy at least until June 1st and all other affairs would have come to a halt until then.

There were many of you who were kind enough to write and I appreciate it. Your letters were instrumental in bringing about a change in our policy. DOONESBURY is back, in a new spot on the editorial page, but back nonetheless.

Please read and enjoy and know that B.D., Lacey, and Zonker and all the rest owe you an everlasting debt of gratitude.

With all good wishes.

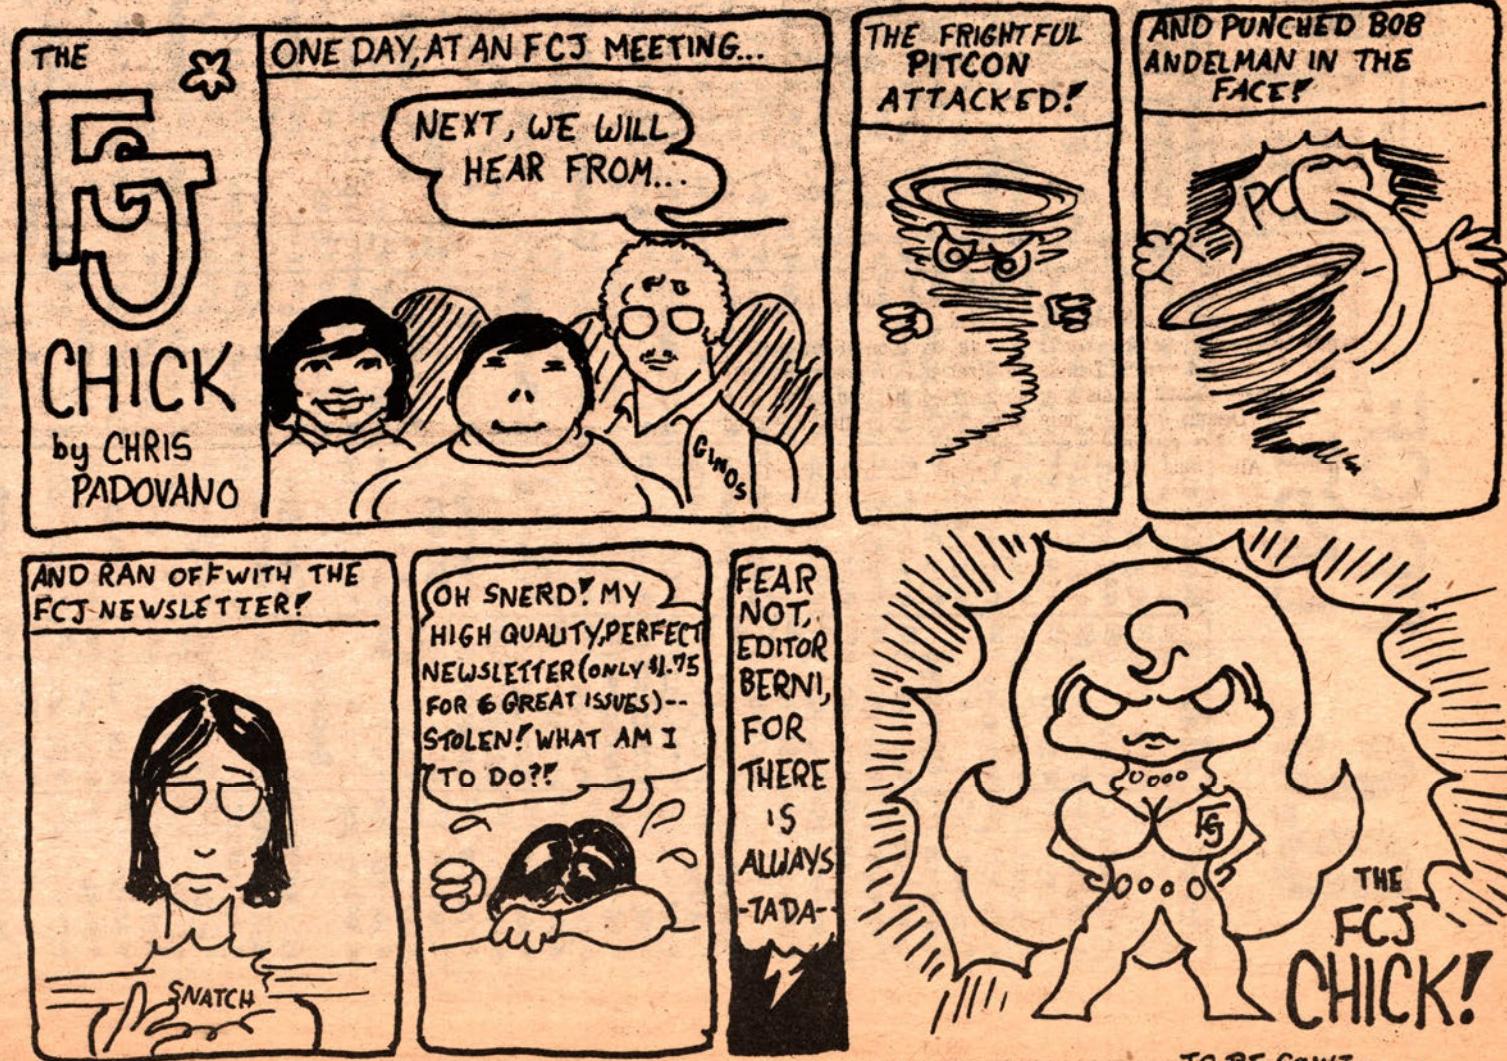

Very truly yours,

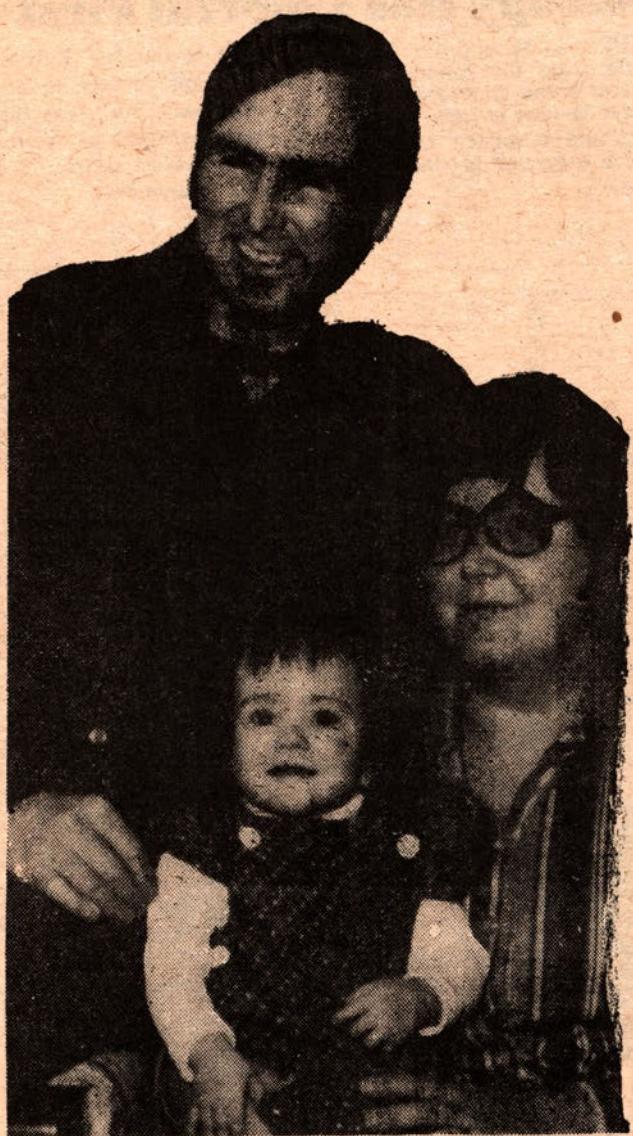

Robert E. Rhodes
Executive Editor

And thank you, Mr. Rhodes, for being as considerate of your readers as we of the Central New Jersey area could ask.

When Doonesbury abruptly disappeared from the comic strip section of The Home News, many of us wrote and called to complain. I'd like to find out about other editors around the country that can be this responsive to the demands of readers as concerns a "mere" comic strip. Thanks again.

GROWN UP — Dennis Ketcham, 30, whose father, Hank Ketcham, created the cartoon character, Dennis the Menace, has grown up to become a prison guard. Meanwhile, his comic strip counterpart still lives next door to Mr. Wilson. The younger Ketcham now lives in Circleville, Ohio, with his wife, Roxanna, and 16-month-old daughter, Jennifer.

Dennis has left menacehood

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Attention Mr. Wilson: Dennis the Menace, your mischievous former next door neighbor, is in jail — he has grown up to become a prison guard.

Dennis Ketcham, 30, son of Hank Ketcham, originator of the cartoon character, spent his childhood in boarding schools, joined the Marines, became a cowboy and has since married and gotten a job as a prison guard.

Through all that, his comic strip counterpart still lives next door to Mr. Wilson, loves ice cream and his dog Ruff, and idolizes Cowboy Bob.

The younger Ketcham says he had a rambunctious day when he was 4 or 5 years old. He broke a lamp and, when his dad came home, his mother described Dennis as a "real menace." A star was born.

Hank Ketcham, a Walt Disney cartoonist before World War II, started writing Dennis the Menace, based on his son, in 1951. Dennis was an only child and his parents were named Alice and Henry just like in the comics.

"I was like every other 4-or 5-year-old at that time ... I got in mischief. I pulled some hare-brained schemes once in a while but I was about average growing up," Dennis Ketcham recalled.

"I got teased in school about it. In grammar school they were all ribbing me about it. It took quite a few years to get used to it."

Ketcham went to boarding schools at age 12. His mother died a year later and he wound up staying at boarding schools year round.

"I didn't see my dad too much," he said. "For a while we were sort of few and far between. I felt a jealousy. He was too busy."

"Since I've been married, we've been closer," Ketcham said. "Dad said he has some regrets."

The cartoonist moved to Switzerland 17 years ago. He remarried, has a daughter and his wife is expecting a second child.

Dennis Ketcham joined the Marines and spent 10 months in Vietnam. "I lost a lot of good buddies," he said.

After that, he spent some time "horse wrangling" in Arizona. Three years ago he quit and journeyed to Circleville, near Columbus, to visit a friend. There he met Roxanna Waites in a restaurant. They married 16 months ago and have a daughter, Jennifer.

He has worked as a corrections officer at the Ohio correctional reception and medical center in Columbus for the past two months, but he longs for life on a cattle ranch.

"It's just too crowded here. I'm used to the wide open spaces. I like the West," he said. "I'm used to that freedom."

A new Mickey for a new era

By GEORGE MAKSIAN

OKAY, NOW, all together, "Who's the leader of the band that's made for you and me? M-I-C-K-E-Y M-O-U-S-E ... Mickey Mouse ... Forever let us hold his banner high."

If those lyrics make your ears pop up, chances are you're one of the millions of viewers who grew up in the 1950s as a member of the "Mickey Mouse Club," the ever-popular children's show that was televised by ABC from 1955 to 1959.

The program was revived in 1962 and ran in syndication for an additional three years. It was again resurrected in January 1975 as a series of reruns. Now, Walt Disney Productions is coming up with a brand new series, featuring a new chorus of youngsters singing the familiar refrain about the loveable little rodent. It's being produced at a cost of $10 million for an initial 130 episodes.

The new "club" will be aired as a syndicated entry over some 70 stations around the country, starting tomorrow. Locally, it will be shown on Channel 5 in the daily 4:45 p.m. time slot.

"When we first went on the air with the reruns in January 1975 we had a lineup of 56 stations," said George Hankoff, vice president of program sales for SFM Media Service Corp., which syndicates the show. "By April of that year, we jumped to 123 stations. That's how quickly the show caught on nationwide. We expect a similar reaction to the new series," he said.

The essence of the new program will be the same as the old Club, according to the executive, but the aspect will be different. The Mickey Mouse March, for instance, will retain the same lyrics, but the beat has been changed to an updated, funkier tune. The costumes will be contemporary and even the traditional "mouse ears" will undergo a slight change.

The new "Mice", as they are affectionately referred to, were chosen after interviewing some 6,000 youngsters in a nationwide talent search. They range in age from 8 to 14, and unlike the original all-white troupe, they come from a wide variety of cultural and ethnic backgrounds.

"We tried to stay away from the slick professional look," said Hankoff. "We looked for personality and enthusiasm first, and then talent. But that's not to say these kids are not talented. They are, each in his or her own way. You have no idea how much talent there is in this country."

What happened to the original Mouseketeers? That's a good question and their stories are so interesting that author Jerry Bowles has come out with a new book called "Forever Hold Your Banner High," giving a detailed account of the golden dozen.

Two new "mice," Nita DiGiampaolo (l.) and Mindy Feldman, appear in a production number on the premiere of the "New Mickey Mouse Club" bowing on Channel 5 tomorrow at 4 p.m.

The most successful and probably best-loved of the group was Annette Funicello. She went on to make all those beach party movies, married her agent, Jack Gilardi, and mothers three Mouseketeers of her own. She's slated to make an occasional appearance on the new Mickey Mouse show, as will several of her cohorts.

Bobby Burgess is the dancing star of the Lawrence Welk show and is married to the daughter of Myron Floren, Welk's heir apparent. Johnny Crawford was a little more daring in his career having revealed his all in a Playboy movie, "The Naked Ape," in 1972. Darlene, now known as Darlene Valentine, is a country singer and Tommy Cole is a free-lance make-up artist. Jimmie Dodd, the host, died in 1964.

"We won't have a host as such on the new series," said Hankoff. "For the most part it will be Mickey and the Mouseketeers, and the huge array of cartoons and films from the Walt Disney library. We have access to over 350 films, many of which have never before been shown on TV. It'll be like a 'Wonderful World of Disney' on a daily basis," he added.

THE ZINE MENU Annex

This part of JerseyScene, TZM, for short, exists as an outgrowth of a column for a fellow Jerseyan by the name of Lee Wochner. It'll be in this special section that you'll learn news and hear reviews of Jersey fan-zines.

Since this column normally escapes from Amazing Comics, it's only fair to often this simple suggestion: buy a sample! Or better yet, subscribe! I SWEAR they don't pay me for these plugs, so go on, take a flyer. That's 35¢ for a sample, $1.50 for a five-issue subscription. Send them thar ducats to AC, RD 2, Box 185 a, Absecon, NJ 08201. Each issue runs in the vicinity of 20 pages and besides TZM, other features include "Comix Clippings", "Article!" by Rich Fifield, "Film Forum" by Keith Reamer, "The Rich Hoesberg Page" by Anonymous, and "With a Turn of the Page," the monthly editorial spa of Editor Wochner.

The Raleigh Comics people who put out AC have just announced a new zine, Amazing Comics Adventures, to preview sometime in April.

Another new project to come from the Jersey area is Jay Zilber's projected Sugar & Spike Revival. Jay, a corresponding FCJ member, recently moved to the City of Brotherly Love, Philadelphia, and was amazed to be told that only across the river was New Jersey. So he decided to involve a few native FCJers in Glaah, the Sugar & Spike Revival FanZine. If you are interested, contact the Update fiend c/o GLCA Phila. NOSTALGIA

At 83, Harriet Adams continues to turn out the campy adventures of Nancy Drew.

LEISURE SUNDAY NEWS, JANUARY 23, 1977

Frank, Joe & Nancy still wow the kids

By JUDSON HAND

HYPERS! LOOK OUT!" That's the way the Hardy Boys and Nancy Drew would put it. The cause of their exclamations: They will go mod, sort of, when they appear in a new TV series beginning at 7 p.m. next Sunday on ABC. And purists may not like their new images.

Oh, Nancy will remain the same virtuous 18-year-old she's been for almost half a century in the 50-odd juvenile detective books in which she's starred as America's most chaste girl detective. And the Hardy Boys, Frank and Joe, will remain as pure-in-heart as they were in 1927 when they first entered Bayport High, where they have remained ever since. That was in "The Tower Treasure," the first of 56 books in which they've solved cases.

Still, hard core fans of the Hardies and Nancy may find the new images hard to take.

For one thing, Frank and Joe will scour the landscape on groovy chrome motorcycles, like fugitives from "Easy Rider," and they'll communicate with CB radios. Nancy who, in the books, remains perhaps the most sexless heroine in American letters, will emerge on TV as a cute dish.

"We are also putting real, contemporary humor into the series, not just the camp humor you find in the books," said Glen Larson, who's producing both TV series, from California. This news may come as a blow to fans of both series who have long cherished the decrepit puns and broad slapstick which enliven the books.

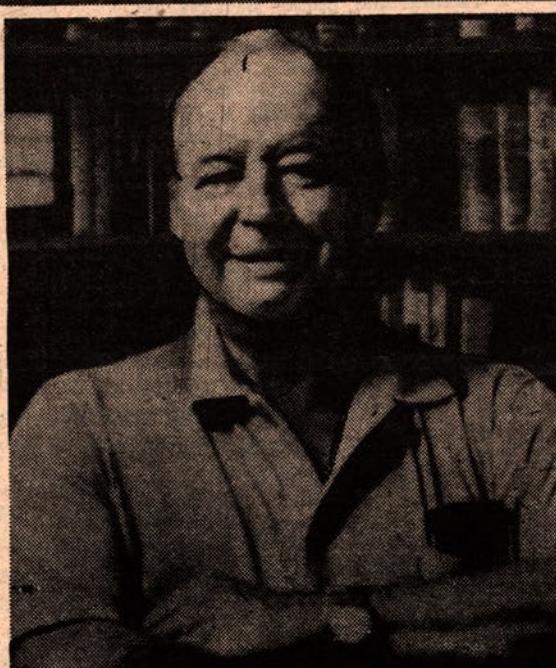

Devout Hardy Boys fans, for example, are not surprised when Frank Hardy "facetiously" asks Joe, "Have you ever seen a barn dance?"

Worst of all for purists, though, will probably be the fact that some of the TV scripts won't be adaptations of the books at all but originals.

In the last half century, the Nancy Drew books have sold 60 million copies and the Hardy Boys 50 million copies—more than any other juvenile books on the market. And sales are still going strong.

The formulas on which both the Hardy Boys and Nancy Drew books are based are simple: Each chapter begins with action, grows to a complication in the middle and ends with a cliff hanger to keep young readers turning the pages.

Over the years, both series have been modernized somewhat, but on their own terms. Both the Hardies and Nancy live and operate in a world in which such contemporary manifestations as dope, rape and cruelty for kicks not only do not exist but are unimaginable.

Thus, even when the books were updated they retained their other worldliness.

In "The Flickering Torch Mystery," for example, readers found the Hardy boys and some of their pals playing in a rock band and Frank encountered a groupie, though not the kind you'd meet in "Rolling Stone" or "Crawdaddy."

"Keep the rhythm coming my way," urges the groupie, "archly."

It's not that the Hardies and Nancy can't cope with modern life, really, it's just that they won't change their ways.

In one of her adventures, in fact, Nancy comes on as a kind of virginal go-go dancer:

"Nancy was flushed with excitement. As soon as the music started, she took off her shoes. She found it easy to execute simple movements, then with increasing confidence, more complicated ones. Some of the professional dancers came on stage and applauded."

And it's a good bet that millions of Nancy's fans, in training bras, applauded, too.

The Hardies and Nancy have also developed strong social consciences. In "The Double Jinx Mystery," to cite one example, Nancy saves the owner of a rare bird farm from the ravages of a real estate developer.

Violence, however, does remain in both series. Nancy, in fact, is always getting clobbered by villains who zap her from behind or even push heavy carts at her in the supermarket. But she's never seriously injured, much less molested.

Commented critic Arthur Praeger, a Nancy Drew expert:

"There are more than 30 occasions on which Nancy is bludgeoned into unconsciousness by blows on the head, enough to reduce her to a lifetime of hanging around Stillman's gym looking for odd jobs."

The success stories of the Hardy boys and Nancy Drew began in 1886 when a man named Edward Stratemeyer scribbled his first story on a piece of brown wrapping paper (or so legend has it) in his brother's tobacco shop in Newark.

The story sold and Stratemeyer, though he did not know it then, was on his way to becoming the Henry Ford of children's literature.

Snoopy Has Colorful First

Rome (UPI) — Snoopy, the flop-eared beagle from the comic strip Peanuts, became the first character to be televised in color in Italy.

The national television network showed color programs for the first time Tuesday.

Italy is the last European Common Market country to begin color transmissions. For years the country disputed whether to use the French Secam or West German Pal system. The Pal system won.

Stratemeyer wrote more stories for boys' magazines, then began writing dime novels. Eventually, he was chosen to complete the works of Horatio Alger Jr. after Alger died.

Pretty soon, Stratemeyer launched his own series of children's books—first, the Old Glory series, then the Rover Boys and the Motor Boys. By 1908, he'd formed his own syndicate to produce children's books.

All the series sold well and Stratemeyer couldn't supply the demand for his books. So he did what any self-respecting capitalist would have done: He streamlined his operation and brought in extra help.

Stratemeyer began to supply outlines. Free lance writers, many ill paid journalists, wrote the books for flat fees ranging from $50 to $200 a volume with no royalties. The system worked.

Stratemeyer farmed out the first three "breeder" volumes of the Hardy Boys series to a young Canadian author named Leslie McFarlane, who wrote them under the name of Franklin W. Dixon until 1946. The series caught on.

On a recent trip to New York City to promote his autobiography, "Ghost of the Hardy Boys" (Methuen), McFarlane seemed proud that the Hardy Boys had survived so much social change.

"The books are not literary masterpieces," he said, "but I'm not ashamed of the breathless prose I wrote then. After all, money for the Hardy Boys kept me solvent during the Depression and paid the rent while I pursued other kinds of writing."

McFarlane, who lives in Canada, has written hundreds of pieces for radio, screen, stage and TV, but he's resigned to the fact that his best known works are and will probably remain the Hardy Boy books.

Nancy Drew is the work of Harriet Stratemeyer Adams, Stratemeyer's daughter, who, with her late sister, Edna Squier, took over the syndicate when their father died in 1930.

Mrs. Adams, now 83 years old, still presides at the syndicate's offices on the second floor of an office building in Maplewood, N. J.

Generally, she writes a 60-page outline of a new Nancy Drew mystery in pencil, then dictates the book in from two weeks to two months. She always uses the pen name, Carolyn Keane, for the Nancy Drew books.

"The books do have some educational value, and we go to great lengths to make them authentic," said Mrs. Adams recently in her office. "From one book they may learn about archaeology and from another they may get a lesson in conserving natural resources, but they always learn something."

The survival of both the Nancy Drew and Hardy Boy mysteries seems assured since their publisher, Grosset & Dunlap, has discreetly announced that "arrangements have been made" for their continuation.

But how long will the TV series survive? Only time and the Nielsen ratings will tell.

A lot may depend on viewers like 10-year-old Leighton Mitchell who has in his room at his house on the Lower East Side a complete set of Hardy Boy books, each of which he has read several times, and a TV set.

"I don't know what to expect," said Leighton, "but I'll be watching the series very carefully. There are a lot of goofs on TV, you know."

Leighton is one of those purists.

WE PAUSE NOW FOR THIS MESSAGE...

Nearing the end of this column (three days after I began it), it occurs to me that this mountain of material probably looks very similar to a thing by the name of Beautiful Balloons, which of course is produced by Don & Maggie Thompson. Considering the one letter I received regarding the introductory Jerseyscene col back in January, which mentioned that I came off like Murray Now What Bishoff, I want to take a minute to explain that I'm not trying to copy anyone. The four pages of newspaper clipping in this column may have confused with BB, but they will probably never appear in this quantity in the future unless to do so is desired. But the press in this area has covered the land of comics pretty well of late, and I thought it might make for interesting reading to see how different sections of the country cover different topics.

In any case, I do feel it necessary to explain I am not intentionally going to repeat anyone else's ideas or format. I won't say anymore about this. If you doubt my sincerity, check what's coming up next month. You won't find those features elsewhere!

'Spider-Man' Ads K0d

Washington (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission gave final approval yesterday to a precedent-setting decision ending the direct advertising of "Spider-Man" vitamins to children.

The action, originally announced and approved in preliminary form last October, ends a case that began nearly two years ago with a complaint that the commercials posed a danger to children by employing the cartoon character to distort the medicinal value of the product.

The manufacturer, the Hudson Pharmaceutical Corp., said it would drop the commercials voluntarily.

DC NEWS !

If your newsstand is as turtle-paced as mine, you may not know that DC has raised their comic book prices again, for the first time in a 'big' fifteen months. 30¢ books are now 35¢, and 50¢ers are now 60¢. Plus the boost from $1.00 to $2.00 on oversized treasury books.

This move was made to accommodate distributors, who felt that their per comic profit was not enough to warrant carrying all, if any of the DC line. The proof in this, according to DC Public Relations Man Mike Gold, is that dealers can find more room on the racks for profitable one dollar books, often in the place of smaller books. Because "the biggest problem is distribution" of comics in this crazy business, a company cannot stay in the business long if the consumers cannot acquire the products. If early estimates are correct indicators, according to the PR Man, the one dollar books are very popular. Without these books, there may not be a future for comics.

One dollar books may also cut down on the number of different titles on the market. Books such as World's Finest, which feature complete, and individual stories for a number of characters may eventually combine the smaller editions of some characters, so that Superman Family at one dollar might someday enclose the stories presently appearing in Action & Superman comics. It is a thought; it is a possibility.

In other news... DC has no plans to cancel any books in the near future. Nor has it cut anything in the past month or two. Are titles stabilizing?.... New title Star Hunters will preview in DC Superstars (of Space, obviously) #16, July 26, to be followed by their own book... Jonah Hex, Unknown Soldier, and Weird War are all monthly now... Men of War tentatively reappear May 10 featuring "Grave Digger," and "Enemy Ace." Ed Davis will draw both... Mike Gold is now responsible for DC house ads. See the one for Batman vs. Ra's Al Ghul... After thirteen forgotten years, Superman Annual 9 will appear in August featuring a 60 page story... Paperback novels of DC characters are coming. From Warner Paperback Library are Superman by Elliot S. Maggin, Wonder Woman by Jane Lynch, and Batman tentatively by Denny O'Neill. Dell will also publish one, Challengers of the Unknown by Ron Goulart, a newcomer... (heh, heh)...

BULLPEN BONANZA

Somewhere under "Zounds! A Zealous Zetetic of Zestful Zanies to Zap the Zeitgeist!" (how DO you do that, Scott?), lies this:

ITEM! As a final note, our apologies to BOB PINAHA, CHRIS PADOVANO, and all the other members of the FANS OF CENTRAL JERSEY. In an item in our March Bullpen Bulletin on the debut performance of the new "Ballad of Red Sonja" we neglected to mention their aid and contribution to the whole affair's success. (Okay, guys! Now will you release Howard the Duck? He's already missed important guest appearances on Face the Nation, David Brinkley's Journal, and Zoo Parade!)

That's in every Marvel Comic Book cover-dated June. We'll have an exam and an autographing session next time.

(Oh, I almost forgot. Padovano's name was incorrectly spelled on the page. But heck, I won't tell anyone.)

Before we disappear for another month, I want to credit a few people and institutions (and a few people in institutions) for the material that appears in this edition of Jerseyscene. "Frank, Joe & Nancy still wow the kids," "A new Mickey for a new era," and those Spider-Man ads are from the NY Daily News, Jersey Edition. The King Kong cartoon by Jorgy original appeared in The Aquarian Weekly. "Dennis has left menachood," and "Never did like 'Doonesbury'" are from The Home News. "'Spider-Man' Ads K0d" and the Lynda Carter Wonder Woman picture were also from The NY Daily News.

Personal thanx are also extended to BoB Pinaha, who designed the Jerseyscene logo, and to Chris Padovano for saving FCJ by creating FCJ Chick to protect us.

NEXT TIME: The first installment of "One of Our Sidekicks is Missing" which features your favorite heroes with guest appearances by Alan Light, Murray Bishoff, and Oscar Goldman... The continuing exploits of NJ's fighting female the FCJ Chick... A review of the second DVCCA convention... The twice-removed review of NJ's newest comix/sci-fi shop "E Equals Mc Squared"... and a photo tour of Jenette Kahn's DC as provided by Editor/Writer Paul Levitz.

Till then, HAPPY HEROICS !

Lynda Carter is on the lookout

TERRY AND THE PIRATES

MILTON

NEW!

TERRY & THE PIRATES—In the first year of TERRY Caniff made a switch in art styles that established him as the contemporary master who influenced a generation of cartoonists. Forward by Caniff and Maurice Horn. Follow Terry, Pat and Connie as they meet spoiled-rich Normandie Drake and battle her kidnappers in the China Sea. From the beginning of the strip: Oct. 22, 1934 to Dec. 13, 1935. Clothbound—196 pages, $12.95.

MEET BURMA—In the second year of the strip Caniff is into his full stride as a story teller. The trio of adventurers meet the alluring and elusive Burma as they run from the pirate, Capt. Judas. The wily Burma uses all her charms to escape only to confront a jungle plague and the Hong Kong police. From Dec. 1935 to Aug. 1936. Softcover—96 pages, $6.95.

Hello fans. Well it certainly has been awhile since I did a Marvel and D.C. ad. I guess I just have to bus with other things. I am trying a new system out with this ad. The books are listed from Fine to Mint. With most of the books being in the NM category. I feel that this must work since I see a lot of other dealers doing it. The only difference is that they list the books VG-NM and there prices are a lot higher on all the books. Many dealers like to claim to be the lowest priced dealer in the U.S. But, when prices are compared no one is lower than I. Postage is 50¢ per order. Insurance is 50¢ per $0.00 of books. I appreciate it if you list alternates as I always throw in something extra if possible. I would also appreciate it if you would clip this ad and save it as it will be good for at least a couple of months. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the thousands who ordered from me in 1976. I hope to hear from you this year. Thank you for listening. Fred Dillet, 9312 Spring Valley Rd., Mazomanie, Wisconsin. 53565. My phone for phone orders is (608) 798-4707.

THE COMMANDER OF THE SHRINER FORCES IS THE SADISTIC GRAND MASTER-GENERAL, A QUADRIPLEGIC VICTIM OF THE ECZEMA PLAGUES, WHOSE HALF-DESTROYED BODY HAS BEEN KEPT ALIVE ONLY BY A TWISTED FORM OF SCIENCE AND A SINGLE-MINDED LUST FOR CONQUEST!

DRIVEN ON BY THEIR SECRET DOCTRINES OF COSMIC OBSCURITY, SMASHING ALL WHO OPPOSE THEM, THE SHRINERS SEEK OUT HUMAN SACRIFICES IN THE NAME OF THE "FELLOWCRAFT" AND THE HOLY "EASTERN STAR"

DAVID STEVENS

LET'S BE SERIOUS

In the fall of 1976, Roberta Gregory published a collection of her work in a book called Dynamite Damsels. It has become a milestone in cartooning. Her unique style of drawing has graced the pages of Wimmen's Comix, Cobblestone, Uncle Jam, and many other fine publications.

In the fall of 1976, Phil Yeh published a collection of two years of his comic strip, Cazco. The first graphic album. His work as publisher of Cobblestone and Uncle Jam paved the way for an exciting new concept in the publishing of comix.

Graphic Albums: books that are recorded by artists and sold as works of art.

In February of 1977, Roberta Gregory and Phil Yeh formed a new band to record some very beautiful words and pictures.

JAM

a new album of fables.

JAM recorded live in Long Beach, California. Photos and colour by Tom Luth. Stories and pictures by Roberta Gregory, Phil Yeh, Terry Priestley, Don DeContreras, Lynn Ricketts, Phred Borrego, and Brad Schenck.

AN OPEN LETTER ABOUT BRUCE HAMILTON TO EVERYONE WHO KNOWS ME OR WHO DOES BUSINESS WITH ME

Dear Collector:

As you all have been reading, Bruce Hamilton of Scottsdale, Arizona has been the target of at least two personal attacks conducted through the pages of THE BUYER'S GUIDE.

While TBG publisher Alan Light has publicly apologized to Bruce for printing these attacks, and although Alan regrets that they were ever published, some damage has been done to Bruce's excellent reputation as a collector and dealer in comic books and related material.

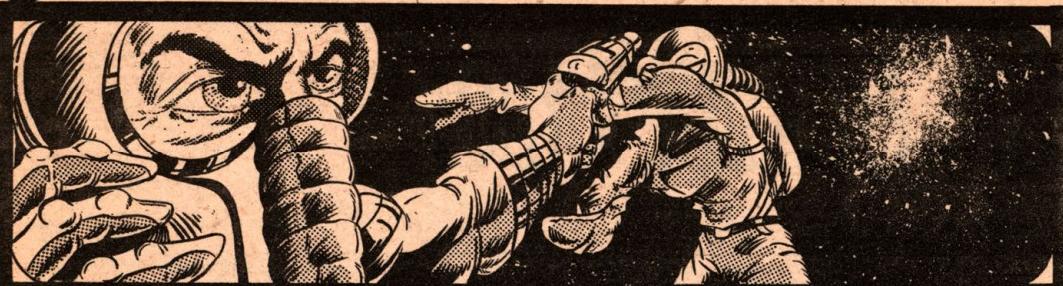

To a new collector who has not had a chance to deal personally with Bruce, either through the mails or at a convention, there have been questions raised about his integrity...and in spite of the retractions, which came weeks later, those seeds of doubt have been planted.

So, I am writing this letter and paying for this page in order to say to one and all: Bruce Hamilton is a straight shooter. I have been associated with him as a good friend and as a comic art dealer and publisher for enough years for me to endorse him without reservation.

To all of my good customers, who support my publishing efforts and who buy their originals from me...who really believe in me and in what I am doing, I say: Bruce Hamilton is O.K. He will not cheat you. He is an honest, reputable dealer...definitely one of the top ten in the country in all respects, including reliability and integrity. You can buy from him through the mail with no fear of being ripped off.

So, the next time you see an ad in these pages of Bruce Hamilton's, don't even hesitate to order anything from it because of these few seeds of doubt which might have taken root in your mind. Send him your orders, and you will become one of his satisfied customers.

Russ Cochran

GRAPHIC GALLERY A CATALOG OF ORIGINAL ART FOR SALE

In addition to publishing for collectors, I also buy and sell original artwork, specializing in certain artists. I maintain the world's largest inventory of artwork for sale by these specific artists . . . so you should contact me if you are interested in either buying or selling originals by these artists:

Carl Barks, Milton Caniff, Percy Crosby, Roy Crane, Billy DeBeck, Disney Studio artists, Hal Foster, Virgil Finlay, Frank Frazetta, Chester Gould, Frank Godwin, George Herriman, Burne Hogarth, Walt Kelly, Frank King, Harvey Kurtzman, George McManus, Clifford McBride, Alex Raymond, E. C. Segar, J. Allen St. John, Cliff Sterrett, and any of the EC comic book artists.

Several times a year I publish my illustrated catalog of original art for sale, GRAPHIC GALLERY. Now in its 10th issue, GRAPHIC GALLERY has printed more originals by Barks, Frazetta, Raymond, Foster, and other top artists than all other similar publications combined. Back issues of GRAPHIC GALLERY are the closest thing you can find to an "original art price guide", with each original clearly printed and priced.

First-class subscriptions to GRAPHIC GALLERY are $5 per issue, and book-rate subscriptions and back issues are $4. each. Back issues available are #5 through the current issue, #10.

A Collector Carton is a heavy-duty corrugated cardboard box with all inside surfaces coated with a thin plastic film. As you can see from the picture, they are perfect for storing comic books.

One CollectorCarton measures 9" x 11" x 3" deep and will hold from 20 to over 30 comic books. A box of ten (10) CollectorCartons is $20 . . . which means that for only $20 you can place from 200 to over 300 of your comics in CollectorCartons, where they are protected from light, heat, and moisture . . . and they are accessible anytime you want to look at them.

CollectorCartons, tightly filled with your comics, can be stacked either flat or vertically, and with the contents marked on each carton, you can pick out any comic in your collection with a minimum of searching. And each carton holds about the right number of comics to pull out and browse through at one time.

Constant exposure to light, even indirect sunlight, can yellow newsprint in a matter of months. The only time light should fall on the pages or covers of your valuable comics is when you are looking at them . . . the rest of the time your comics should be in completely enclosed, moisture-resistant, tightly packed CollectorCartons!

I feel so sure that you will agree with me and will like your collection better in CollectorCartons that I offer them with my usual total satisfaction guarantee. Send $20 (plus $2 postage) for ten (10) CollectorCartons now. If you don't like them, send them back for a full refund. So far, almost everyone who has ordered them has re-ordered, and I have received many letters from collectors who are pleased with them. Order today!

KING portfolio one

This extra-large (12" x 18") portfolio reproduces, from the original artwork, some of the finest work of King Features artists Alex Raymond, George Herriman, Hal Foster, Phil Davis, and others. Printed on heavy coated stock especially for the collector, KING PORTFOLIO ONE features work by these artists in the years 1935-1939, during the absolute PEAK of newspaper comic art in America, with a special emphasis on the work of Alex Raymond in the years 1935-1937. Guaranteed to please the most finicky collector! $10. postpaid.

Frank Frazetta is one of the most popular and influential fantasy and adventure illustrators in the world today. While he is known primarily for his oil paintings, he is also known to comic art collectors for his fine work in the comics. My portfolios THUNDA, UNTAMED LOVE, and the set of FAMOUS FUNNIES covers, which are all beautifully reproduced directly from Frazetta's originals, represent his finest work in the comics.

FAMOUS FUNNIES covers: Set of all eight of Frazetta's Buck Rogers covers, all in full color, in newly colored versions (colored by Frazetta), in an illustrated envelope $15.

THUNDA reprints the entire comic THUNDA #1, and UNTAMED LOVE reprints four rare stories from Personal Love comics. Crystal-clear reproduction from the original artwork. Very small supply left . . . $7. each

I also carry the entire line of Frazetta posters, stocked in depth. These retail for $3. each, with quantity discounts as follows: if your order totals at least 10 posters, the price drops to $2.25 each . . . for a total order of at least 50 posters, the price is only $1.75 each.

EC REPRINTS

I have a large stock of issues #3 through 12 of East Coast Comix' exact reprints of EC comics, at the following special prices:

10-99 issues (any mixture) 60¢ each more than 100 issues (any mixture) 50¢ each

There were meant to retail from $1 to $1.50 each, so these prices represent a substantial discount. For more than 1000 copies, contact me for an even better price.

CAPTAIN BRITAIN EAGLE DARE TV21
Who's CAPTAIN BRITAIN? He's the Marvel superhero whose comic you can't buy on the newsstand because it's only available here in Great Britain. Published every week, each issue contains a full color Captain Britain strip produced in America by Marvel staffers. Now at last you can get this fine comic mailed personally to you at a reasonable price. I'm offering the first EIGHT issues, with a duplicate copy of no.1 for a friend, plus 3 other British Marvel comics for just $3 + $1 postage. Additional copies of Captain Britain or other titles cost 25¢ each plus $1 postage for each 20 ordered or part thereof. Wholesale rates are shown below and are available to both collectors and dealers.

CAPTAIN BRITAIN is the only non-reprint British Marvel but I think you will find the other titles quite interesting. You may have seen some of the covers in FOOM as these are mainly specially produced exclusively for British publication. All the mainstream Marvel characters have appeared, but I think the most ingenious feature Conan and The Avengers in the same cover scene—see FOOM 11 for a sample. Letters, editorial features and pin-ups never used in America are included—Frank Hampson has done a couple of the pin-up pages.

Generous wholesale rates are available. Each batch of Captain Britain contains the same number of copies per issue except no.1 of which there are approx twice as many. General British Marvels will be all different if up to 100 ordered, not more than 2 copies per issue on 200, maximum 3 per issue on 300 and so on. I've about 500 different in all.

50 copies-$12 100 copies-$21 200 copies-$40 300 copies-$57

400 copies-$73 500 copies-$89 Each additional 100 up to 1000-$16

ALL THESE PRICES EXCLUDE POSTAGE WHICH WILL BE

Please state the proportion of Captain Britain to general issues you'd like, e.g. in 50 copies a collector may want the 9 CBs and 41 other issues; in 500 a dealer might request 38 sets of CB and 236 others. The only specification I can't accept is that all the asserted British Marvels be Conan, or something like that. They must be a mixture. If you are only seeking particular issues ask for a list giving individual prices. From issue 9 Captain Britain ceases to be marketed on "sale or return". This will reduce substantially the number of copies I can get. They will be shared as fairly as possible among those who want them. Dealer rates will be slightly higher for these issues.

EAGLE is Britain's most famous and probably best ever comic. This tabloid sized weekly ran for over 900 issues between 1958 and 1969, and prominent among its artists were Frank Hampson and the late great Frank Bellamy. DAN DARE is the most famous character and can be found in full color in every issue. Equally impressive in many 1960s issues is Bellamy's Heros the Spartan, again in color which is of a quality comparable to Warren color sections. Frank Bellamy's work was featured regularly in Eagle from 1958 on. Eagle costs from $1.25 to $2.50 per issue with reductions on complete volumes. Please send your wants list for a quote if you're already collecting Eagle, or a dollar for a sample copy. A complete set of over 950 issues will make a beautiful collection and excellent investment for around $1700. Buy new—if the planned Dan Dare film is made the prices will skyrocket!

TV21 is the comic that seriously challenged Eagle's supremacy among British comics in the 1960s. Format and size the same, it was inspired by the Gerry Anderson TV show—Thunderbirds, Stingray, Fireball XL5 etc. Frank Bellamy's artwork on Thunderbirds and Ron Embleton's Stingray are the artistic highlights. This comic is much rarer than Eagle and costs $2-$3 per issue. I only have a couple of hundred issues at present. A sample costs two dollars.

If there is anything (legal!) that you can't get in your country and I may be able to get for you here drop me a line. It can be old or new but it should be reasonably easy to find here. If I can help I'll reply but not otherwise. Records, books, games, even food—anything!

In the past a few parcels I've sent to America have got lost or stolen. Any Eagles or TV21s you buy will be insured but this is not possible with the British Marvels. I will pack them as securely as the printed paper rate I use allows, and will obtain and send to you a certificate of posting, but beyond that I can't accept responsibility for postal loss. You know your postal service and that this risk, though very slight, does exist.

Finally if you've anything to trade, especially Marvels from 1970-date, that you can offer at a fairly low price please send details. I also need many DCs, Warrens and much more.

Dave McDonnell tells us about avant garde director SEESAW B. DeMILLE and the making of his film THE RAPES OF WRATH, destined to be a classic. By the way, the leading man is a corpse.

Other stories are by Dale Nelson, Wayne Hooks, and Frank Watson. Featured artists include Chris Warner, Neil Riehle, Cliff Kurowski, Ron Harris, Phil Laskowski and Paul Chadwick.

And of course there's the usual PRODUCTION and REACTIONS.

SALE! SALE! SALE! SALE! SALE!

A Personal Note....

Those of you who began reading the BUYERS GUIDE only in the past two or three years won't remember me because during that time I've been for the most part inactive as a dealer. But not as a collector. I began collecting comics in 1960, and have been dealing in comics for nearly that long as a means of financing my own collection. After having lived on the East Coast for a couple of years, I'm now back in Texas and again offering a large selection of comics.

As a longtime collector, I appreciate a collector's needs and feelings. I know you don't want bad service, inferior comics or slow delivery. Be assured you will get none of that from me. Although I can't guarantee I'll never make a mistake, I can guarantee that I'll correct any error or replace any book to your full satisfaction. Those many collectors and dealers who have dealt with me in the past know they can depend on me. Why not order a few things yourself while these special sale prices remain in effect, and see for yourself how pleased you'll be with my service?

TERMS: All comics are in very good to mint condition unless otherwise indicated (m-mint; nm-near mint; fn-fine; vg-very good; g-good; f-fair; p-poor; nc-no cover; sp-spine rolled; hp-two holes punched in spine for use in a binder, otherwise vg to m; pg-pages out). Minimum order $2. Add 25¢ on all orders under $5 to help cover postage & handling. Prompt refund on sold items, but please list alternates where possible; alternates used only if a first choice is sold. We try to check all comics for defects, but sometimes a bad one will get past us. Should you be dissatisfied with any comic for any reason, you may return it for replacement or full refund.

THIS ILLUSTRATION was featured as a hand-coloured centerspread in our first issue of

The COPPER TOADSTOOL

There are still a few copies of this issue still available at the pre-publication price of $.75 plus 25¢ postage ($1.00 total). Why? Due to our inability to have gotten all the ads and flyers out at the same time (which is difficult when fanzines are published at various schedules) many people may not have received the announcements until a short time before the deadline. Therefore, we are canceling our post-publication price and selling all remaining copies at the above cost.

The Copper Toadstool is new zine in the tradition of DARK FANTASY, PHANTASY DIGEST, WHISPERS, and others. Issue #1 contains marvelous prose and artwork by such people as GENE DAY; TIM HAMMELL; 36 pages, digest size, offset printed.

Enter a world of Satyrs, Knights, Wizards and Monsters, Machines, Barbarians and lusty, busty Broads.

Send: $.75 plus 25¢ postage to:

DALE HAMMELL
7500 BRIDGE STREET
RICHMOND, B.C.
CANADA V6Y 2Z7

(if you send a check please be sure to include 25¢ extra to cover the check cashing fee imposed by our credit union.)

We have begun work on our second issue which we hope to have out around July 1977. We will take advance orders on this but there will be no pre-publication or post-publication price. The cost will rise slightly to $1.25 per copy - including postage- but for this we are making some improvements we think you'll like. The most important is that we will be increasing our page count to 60 PAGES to bring you more fiction and art by GENE DAY; TIM HAMMELL; GALE JACK DAY; AL MANACHING and others. We can do this because we have found a less expensive printer who does excellent work. #2 will also have a new, more attractive logo, better layout, and something in colour like the first issue. Send $1.25 to the above address. We gratefully appreciate your support.

GOLDEN AGEMANUSCRIPT PRESS

Virtually every author has in his files manuscripts which have never been published. In the case of an established professional, it is usually not the quality of the manuscript but its subject matter which has prevented publication. This means that there are stories by your favorite author which you will never have a chance to read.

We at Manuscript Press plan to publish some of these "lost" manuscripts by top science fiction and fantasy authors. We have just brought out our first book:

Illustrations and maps by Dany Frolich

Limited Hardcover Edition.....$8.00

The story of a boy with an eidetic memory who was born in 600 B.C., this novel was written just after the classic Mission of Gravity, but has not been published until now, and may never be reprinted.

This edition is limited to 700 copies. It is available only from:
